

DAILY EDITION, by mail, one year, $10 six months, $5; three months, $2, payable in advance.

WEEKLY EDITION published on Tuesday, $1 for 52; six months, $12, payable in advance.

EXPIRATION. Look at the printed label on the front cover of this paper when the subscription expires. Forward the money for renewal to the publisher in Atlanta.

COMMUNICATIONS must be accompanied by the true name and address of the writer, in order to receive attention. Rejected manuscripts will not be returned.

The Constitution.

ATLANTA, GA.

SUNDAY MORNING NOVEMBER 11, 1877.

Book opened in New York yesterday at 100%, and closed at 105%.

Corporation, middling uplands, closed yesterday in New York at 15% in Liverpool at 5 1/2%.

Has Milledgeville a hospital or anything of that sort that will fit the Hon. Peter O'Neal?

The Macon Telegraph asserts that Judge Reese's arguments on the capital question are weak, and that the editors flattered themselves that he is fully answered.

It is a remarkable fact that not one of the newspaper champions of Milledgeville have ever attempted to reply to the arguments of Judge Augustus Reese on the capital question.

It's none of our business, of course, but it strikes us that about the best thing Milledgeville can do now is to recall the Hon. Peter O'Neal's penitent, and start him out as the representative of the Big Indian.

We can find nothing satisfactory from the "Daily Constitution" of the Macon Telegraph with respect to the bid offered by their city for the capital in 1868. True, they insist that such propositions are butres, but they don't like to talk on the subject.

GEN. TOOMBS ON THE CAPITAL QUESTION.

Elsewhere in our columns this morning will be found a pithily characteristic letter from Gen. R. E. Toombs, the great Georgia commander, who gives his views on the capital question with his accustomed frankness. In this, as in other matters of public policy and interest, he is no timeserver nor temporizer. He seizes hold of the question, strips it of all issues of feeling or prejudice, and, in his vigorous and striking style, discusses it as purely a matter of public economy and convenience. His defense of Atlanta against the aspersions that have been cast upon it by those who, through personal interest or blind prejudice, desire the removal of the capital, is more than convincing. It is a vividly eloquent statement of facts which General Toombs is personally qualified to make. The letter can be had in full in the "Daily Constitution," and the reader will find it in the original documents, i.e. reprinted in the "Daily Constitution."

THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND.

As showing how cordially the people of Georgia are pleased with President Johnson, we quote from a letter written by the Hon. B. H. Hill under date of November 1st, 1865, upon his return from the capital, to the editor of the "Daily Constitution":

"I am pleased, also, to say that equalanimity and yet more heartiness exists among the people in support of your administration."

Johnson is subediting, in the "Daily Constitution," a column entitled "The People's Friend," in which he discusses the administration of Mr. Hill.

STEPHEN'S AS SENATOR.

A PAGE OF THE UNRECORDED HISTORY OF RECONSTRUCTION.

How Aleck Stephens was Elected United States Senator—What President Johnson Thought About It—His Personal Regard for Step—Some Opinions of Gov. Brown, Hon. J. E. Barrett, Hon. L. H. Keen, and Stephens' Vindication of Himself.

The chaotic condition of public affairs in the South which succeeded the close of the war has never had a parallel in history. The relations between the states recently in control of the government and those states which were disjoined and the duties of the government and of these states, the one to the other, respectively, were so confused and disjointed that the future of the country and no statesman of that day seemed to have the prophetic power to determine the true road out of the difficulties and the people, up to that time, had no confidence enough to rely upon the policy of the most capable leaders.

It is a remarkable fact that not one of the newspaper champions of Milledgeville have ever attempted to reply to the arguments of Judge Augustus Reese on the capital question.

It's none of our business, of course, but it strikes us that about the best thing Milledgeville can do now is to recall the Hon. Peter O'Neal's penitent, and start him out as the representative of the Big Indian.

We can find nothing satisfactory from the "Daily Constitution" of the Macon Telegraph with respect to the bid offered by their city for the capital in 1868. True, they insist that such propositions are butres, but they don't like to talk on the subject.

GEN. TOOMBS ON THE CAPITAL QUESTION.

Elsewhere in our columns this morning will be found a pithily characteristic letter from Gen. R. E. Toombs, the great Georgia commander, who gives his views on the capital question with his accustomed frankness. In this, as in other matters of public policy and interest, he is no timeserver nor temporizer. He seizes hold of the question, strips it of all issues of feeling or prejudice, and, in his vigorous and striking style, discusses it as purely a matter of public economy and convenience. His defense of Atlanta against the aspersions that have been cast upon it by those who, through personal interest or blind prejudice, desire the removal of the capital, is more than convincing. It is a vividly eloquent statement of facts which General Toombs is personally qualified to make. The letter can be had in full in the "Daily Constitution," and the reader will find it in the original documents, i.e. reprinted in the "Daily Constitution."

THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND.

As showing how cordially the people of Georgia are pleased with President Johnson, we quote from a letter written by the Hon. B. H. Hill under date of November 1st, 1865, upon his return from the capital, to the editor of the "Daily Constitution":

"I am pleased, also, to say that equalanimity and yet more heartiness exists among the people in support of your administration."

Johnson is subediting, in the "Daily Constitution," a column entitled "The People's Friend," in which he discusses the administration of Mr. Hill.

STEPHEN'S AS SENATOR.

A PAGE OF THE UNRECORDED HISTORY OF RECONSTRUCTION.

How Aleck Stephens was Elected United States Senator—What President Johnson Thought About It—His Personal Regard for Step—Some Opinions of Gov. Brown, Hon. J. E. Barrett, Hon. L. H. Keen, and Stephens' Vindication of Himself.

The chaotic condition of public affairs in the South which succeeded the close of the war has never had a parallel in history. The relations between the states recently in control of the government and those states which were disjoined and the duties of the government and of these states, the one to the other, respectively, were so confused and disjointed that the future of the country and no statesman of that day seemed to have the prophetic power to determine the true road out of the difficulties and the people, up to that time, had no confidence enough to rely upon the policy of the most capable leaders.

It is a remarkable fact that not one of the newspaper champions of Milledgeville have ever attempted to reply to the arguments of Judge Augustus Reese on the capital question.

It's none of our business, of course, but it strikes us that about the best thing Milledgeville can do now is to recall the Hon. Peter O'Neal's penitent, and start him out as the representative of the Big Indian.

We can find nothing satisfactory from the "Daily Constitution" of the Macon Telegraph with respect to the bid offered by their city for the capital in 1868. True, they insist that such propositions are butres, but they don't like to talk on the subject.

GEN. TOOMBS ON THE CAPITAL QUESTION.

Elsewhere in our columns this morning will be found a pithily characteristic letter from Gen. R. E. Toombs, the great Georgia commander, who gives his views on the capital question with his accustomed frankness. In this, as in other matters of public policy and interest, he is no timeserver nor temporizer. He seizes hold of the question, strips it of all issues of feeling or prejudice, and, in his vigorous and striking style, discusses it as purely a matter of public economy and convenience. His defense of Atlanta against the aspersions that have been cast upon it by those who, through personal interest or blind prejudice, desire the removal of the capital, is more than convincing. It is a vividly eloquent statement of facts which General Toombs is personally qualified to make. The letter can be had in full in the "Daily Constitution," and the reader will find it in the original documents, i.e. reprinted in the "Daily Constitution."

THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND.

As showing how cordially the people of Georgia are pleased with President Johnson, we quote from a letter written by the Hon. B. H. Hill under date of November 1st, 1865, upon his return from the capital, to the editor of the "Daily Constitution":

"I am pleased, also, to say that equalanimity and yet more heartiness exists among the people in support of your administration."

Johnson is subediting, in the "Daily Constitution," a column entitled "The People's Friend," in which he discusses the administration of Mr. Hill.

STEPHEN'S AS SENATOR.

A PAGE OF THE UNRECORDED HISTORY OF RECONSTRUCTION.

How Aleck Stephens was Elected United States Senator—What President Johnson Thought About It—His Personal Regard for Step—Some Opinions of Gov. Brown, Hon. J. E. Barrett, Hon. L. H. Keen, and Stephens' Vindication of Himself.

The chaotic condition of public affairs in the South which succeeded the close of the war has never had a parallel in history. The relations between the states recently in control of the government and those states which were disjoined and the duties of the government and of these states, the one to the other, respectively, were so confused and disjointed that the future of the country and no statesman of that day seemed to have the prophetic power to determine the true road out of the difficulties and the people, up to that time, had no confidence enough to rely upon the policy of the most capable leaders.

It is a remarkable fact that not one of the newspaper champions of Milledgeville have ever attempted to reply to the arguments of Judge Augustus Reese on the capital question.

It's none of our business, of course, but it strikes us that about the best thing Milledgeville can do now is to recall the Hon. Peter O'Neal's penitent, and start him out as the representative of the Big Indian.

We can find nothing satisfactory from the "Daily Constitution" of the Macon Telegraph with respect to the bid offered by their city for the capital in 1868. True, they insist that such propositions are butres, but they don't like to talk on the subject.

GEN. TOOMBS ON THE CAPITAL QUESTION.

Elsewhere in our columns this morning will be found a pithily characteristic letter from Gen. R. E. Toombs, the great Georgia commander, who gives his views on the capital question with his accustomed frankness. In this, as in other matters of public policy and interest, he is no timeserver nor temporizer. He seizes hold of the question, strips it of all issues of feeling or prejudice, and, in his vigorous and striking style, discusses it as purely a matter of public economy and convenience. His defense of Atlanta against the aspersions that have been cast upon it by those who, through personal interest or blind prejudice, desire the removal of the capital, is more than convincing. It is a vividly eloquent statement of facts which General Toombs is personally qualified to make. The letter can be had in full in the "Daily Constitution," and the reader will find it in the original documents, i.e. reprinted in the "Daily Constitution."

THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND.

As showing how cordially the people of Georgia are pleased with President Johnson, we quote from a letter written by the Hon. B. H. Hill under date of November 1st, 1865, upon his return from the capital, to the editor of the "Daily Constitution":

"I am pleased, also, to say that equalanimity and yet more heartiness exists among the people in support of your administration."

Johnson is subediting, in the "Daily Constitution," a column entitled "The People's Friend," in which he discusses the administration of Mr. Hill.

STEPHEN'S AS SENATOR.

A PAGE OF THE UNRECORDED HISTORY OF RECONSTRUCTION.

How Aleck Stephens was Elected United States Senator—What President Johnson Thought About It—His Personal Regard for Step—Some Opinions of Gov. Brown, Hon. J. E. Barrett, Hon. L. H. Keen, and Stephens' Vindication of Himself.

The chaotic condition of public affairs in the South which succeeded the close of the war has never had a parallel in history. The relations between the states recently in control of the government and those states which were disjoined and the duties of the government and of these states, the one to the other, respectively, were so confused and disjointed that the future of the country and no statesman of that day seemed to have the prophetic power to determine the true road out of the difficulties and the people, up to that time, had no confidence enough to rely upon the policy of the most capable leaders.

It is a remarkable fact that not one of the newspaper champions of Milledgeville have ever attempted to reply to the arguments of Judge Augustus Reese on the capital question.

It's none of our business, of course, but it strikes us that about the best thing Milledgeville can do now is to recall the Hon. Peter O'Neal's penitent, and start him out as the representative of the Big Indian.

We can find nothing satisfactory from the "Daily Constitution" of the Macon Telegraph with respect to the bid offered by their city for the capital in 1868. True, they insist that such propositions are butres, but they don't like to talk on the subject.

GEN. TOOMBS ON THE CAPITAL QUESTION.

Elsewhere in our columns this morning will be found a pithily characteristic letter from Gen. R. E. Toombs, the great Georgia commander, who gives his views on the capital question with his accustomed frankness. In this, as in other matters of public policy and interest, he is no timeserver nor temporizer. He seizes hold of the question, strips it of all issues of feeling or prejudice, and, in his vigorous and striking style, discusses it as purely a matter of public economy and convenience. His defense of Atlanta against the aspersions that have been cast upon it by those who, through personal interest or blind prejudice, desire the removal of the capital, is more than convincing. It is a vividly eloquent statement of facts which General Toombs is personally qualified to make. The letter can be had in full in the "Daily Constitution," and the reader will find it in the original documents, i.e. reprinted in the "Daily Constitution."

THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND.

As showing how cordially the people of Georgia are pleased with President Johnson, we quote from a letter written by the Hon. B. H. Hill under date of November 1st, 1865, upon his return from the capital, to the editor of the "Daily Constitution":

"I am pleased, also, to say that equalanimity and yet more heartiness exists among the people in support of your administration."

Johnson is subediting, in the "Daily Constitution," a column entitled "The People's Friend," in which he discusses the administration of Mr. Hill.

STEPHEN'S AS SENATOR.

A PAGE OF THE UNRECORDED HISTORY OF RECONSTRUCTION.

How Aleck Stephens was Elected United States Senator—What President Johnson Thought About It—His Personal Regard for Step—Some Opinions of Gov. Brown, Hon. J. E. Barrett, Hon. L. H. Keen, and Stephens' Vindication of Himself.

The chaotic condition of public affairs in the South which succeeded the close of the war has never had a parallel in history. The relations between the states recently in control of the government and those states which were disjoined and the duties of the government and of these states, the one to the other, respectively, were so confused and disjointed that the future of the country and no statesman of that day seemed to have the prophetic power to determine the true road out of the difficulties and the people, up to that time, had no confidence enough to rely upon the policy of the most capable leaders.

It is a remarkable fact that not one of the newspaper champions of Milledgeville have ever attempted to reply to the arguments of Judge Augustus Reese on the capital question.

It's none of our business, of course, but it strikes us that about the best thing Milledgeville can do now is to recall the Hon. Peter O'Neal's penitent, and start him out as the representative of the Big Indian.

We can find nothing satisfactory from the "Daily Constitution" of the Macon Telegraph with respect to the bid offered by their city for the capital in 1868. True, they insist that such propositions are butres, but they don't like to talk on the subject.

GEN. TOOMBS ON THE CAPITAL QUESTION.

Elsewhere in our columns this morning will be found a pithily characteristic letter from Gen. R. E. Toombs, the great Georgia commander, who gives his views on the capital question with his accustomed frankness. In this, as in other matters of public policy and interest, he is no timeserver nor temporizer. He seizes hold of the question, strips it of all issues of feeling or prejudice, and, in his vigorous and striking style, discusses it as purely a matter of public economy and convenience. His defense of Atlanta against the aspersions that have been cast upon it by those who, through personal interest or blind prejudice, desire the removal of the capital, is more than convincing. It is a vividly eloquent statement of facts which General Toombs is personally qualified to make. The letter can be had in full in the "Daily Constitution," and the reader will find it in the original documents, i.e. reprinted in the "Daily Constitution."

THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND.

As showing how cordially the people of Georgia are pleased with President Johnson, we quote from a letter written by the Hon. B. H. Hill under date of November 1st, 1865, upon his return from the capital, to the editor of the "Daily Constitution":

"I am pleased, also, to say that equalanimity and yet more heartiness exists among the people in support of your administration."

Johnson is subediting, in the "Daily Constitution," a column entitled "The People's Friend," in which he discusses the administration of Mr. Hill.

STEPHEN'S AS SENATOR.

A PAGE OF THE UNRECORDED HISTORY OF RECONSTRUCTION.

How Aleck Stephens was Elected United States Senator—What President Johnson Thought About It—His Personal Regard for Step—Some Opinions of Gov. Brown, Hon. J. E. Barrett, Hon. L. H. Keen, and Stephens' Vindication of Himself.

The chaotic condition of public affairs in the South which succeeded the close of the war has never had a parallel in history. The relations between the states recently in control of the government and those states which were disjoined and the duties of the government and of these states, the one to the other, respectively, were so confused and disjointed that the future of the country and no statesman of that day seemed to have the prophetic power to determine the true road out of the difficulties and the people, up to that time, had no confidence enough to rely upon the policy of the most capable leaders.

It is a remarkable fact that not one of the newspaper champions of Milledgeville have ever attempted to reply to the arguments of Judge Augustus Reese on the capital question.

It's none of our business, of course, but it strikes us that about the best thing Milledgeville can do now is to recall the Hon. Peter O'Neal's penitent, and start him out as the representative of the Big Indian.

We can find nothing satisfactory from the "Daily Constitution" of the Macon Telegraph with respect to the bid offered by their city for the capital in 1868. True, they insist that such propositions are butres, but they don't like to talk on the subject.

GEN. TOOMBS ON THE CAPITAL QUESTION.

Elsewhere in our columns this morning will be found a pithily characteristic letter from Gen. R. E. Toombs, the great Georgia commander, who gives his views on the capital question with his accustomed frankness. In this, as in other matters of public policy and interest, he is no timeserver nor temporizer. He seizes hold of the question, strips it of all issues of feeling or prejudice, and, in his vigorous and striking style, discusses it as purely a matter of public economy and convenience. His defense of Atlanta against the aspersions that have been cast upon it by those who, through personal interest or blind prejudice, desire the removal of the capital, is more than convincing. It is a vividly eloquent statement of facts which General Toombs is personally qualified to make. The letter can be had in full in the "Daily Constitution," and the reader will find it in the original documents, i.e. reprinted in the "Daily Constitution."

PREFERRED LOCALS.

SUGAR GREEK PAPER MILLS.

WM. MONADGET & CO.

See our advertisement in the Constitution.

250 Peachtree Street.

Atlanta, Ga.

The best built, The lightest and smoothest finished

Every machine gun

and workmanship. Sold as low

the lowest for Cash, or by monthly payments.

250 Peachtree Street.

Augt.

W. JENNINGS & CO.

Saabs, Drills, Tools, Blanks,

Pins, etc., 25 Decatur Street.

519 Peachtree Street.

Atlanta, Ga.

INDEX TO ADVERTISEMENTS.

Drugs situation wanted—Dear L. Smith.

Harrison's Inks—Stiles & Peckham.

Machin's replaced—H. McMillan & Co.

Linen & Cotton & Fustian.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Samson—44 Whitehall.

Real estate to exchange—W. H. Smyth.

Hart's Grist Mill & Co.

South River—J. Stevens & Co.

Drug store at auction—P. E. Ellis & Co.

Coyne's wool—Chamberlain, Beynon & Co.

Establishments—Benevolent Home.

Good lamp—J. C. Bridger.

Crockery and China—J. C. Bridger.

Luminary—A. C. Koenig.

Roads—Dear Dr. A. Koch.

Money—Wanted—A Resident.

Notice in bankruptcy—J. A. Anderson.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Trunk—Four years—Phillips & Crew.

Music taught—W. P. Clark.

Lectures—Young Men's Christian Association.

Dinner—J. C. Bridger.

Buy—J. C. Bridger.

Overcoat—A. C. Koenig.

Roads—Dear Dr. A. Koch.

Money—Wanted—A Resident.

Notice in bankruptcy—J. A. Anderson.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile Co.

Great bargains in cutlery—Law.

Notice in bankruptcy—W. H. Smyth.

Linen—Great Southern Textile